DAILY LECTIONARY READING

Following historic practice, this lectionary presents a continuous reading through the books of the Bible, often associating certain books with particular seasons of the Church Year. The goal is not to read through the entire Bible each year. Rather, two readings of 15–25 verses each are provided for each day—one from the Old Testament, the other from the New Testament. Under this plan, nearly all of the New Testament and approximately one-third of the Old Testament are read each year. Please note the following:

- The lectionary begins with Ash Wednesday. During the seasons of Lent and Easter—the movable seasons in the Church Year—the Church Year calendar is followed.
- Following Holy Trinity Sunday, the calendar year is followed. The calendar readings are continued until the beginning of Lent in the following year.
- Occasionally a third, optional reading is listed in italic type. This reading covers materials that would otherwise be omitted from the daily readings. Sometimes it provides parallel readings, for example, from the minor prophets.

CHRONOLOGICAL BIBLE READING PLAN

This reading plan will guide you through the Bible chronologically in one year.

Although the Bible in some places provides information about time by referring to the year, the month, the day, and even to the hour of an event, it is not always possible to determine times and sequences for every chapter of the Bible. The following readings are arranged in a general chronological order based on available information and by convenience in dividing up the readings. For a detailed study of biblical chronology, we recommend Andrew Steinmann's From Abraham to Paul: A Biblical Chronology (St. Louis: Concordia, 2011).

[Books of the Apocrypha may be read in the following order to gain an understanding of the time between the testaments: Tobit, 3 Maccabees, 2 Maccabees, 1 Maccabees, and Ecclesiasticus.]

In the following arrangement for the Gospels, the order of Matthew is given priority over that of Luke. However, readers should understand that some scholars hold that Luke is more chronological in sequence and that the order of events in Matthew was arranged in part by the collecting of the sayings of Jesus into orderly discourses.]
